EPDs Explained

April 7, 2022 / 1 p.m. EDT

Environmental Product Declarations, or EPDs, are often requested when project-design teams are pursuing green building certifications. But what are EPDs exactly and why do certain products have them, while others do not? This Webinar will explain the importance of EPDs and how to request them, how to read them and why MAPEI offers them.

During the Webinar, attendees will learn:

- The importance of EPDs in general and to the industry.
- How to request and read an EPD.
- MAPEI's EPDs and how to use them on sustainability projects, including LEED.

About the presenter

Brittany Storm

Brittany is the Sustainability Manager for MAPEI Corporation. Her background as a sustainable building consultant and background in construction allow her to speak to audiences about both the big picture and technical aspects of a project.
